A puzzle . . .
Many separate pieces
Each one different
No two alike

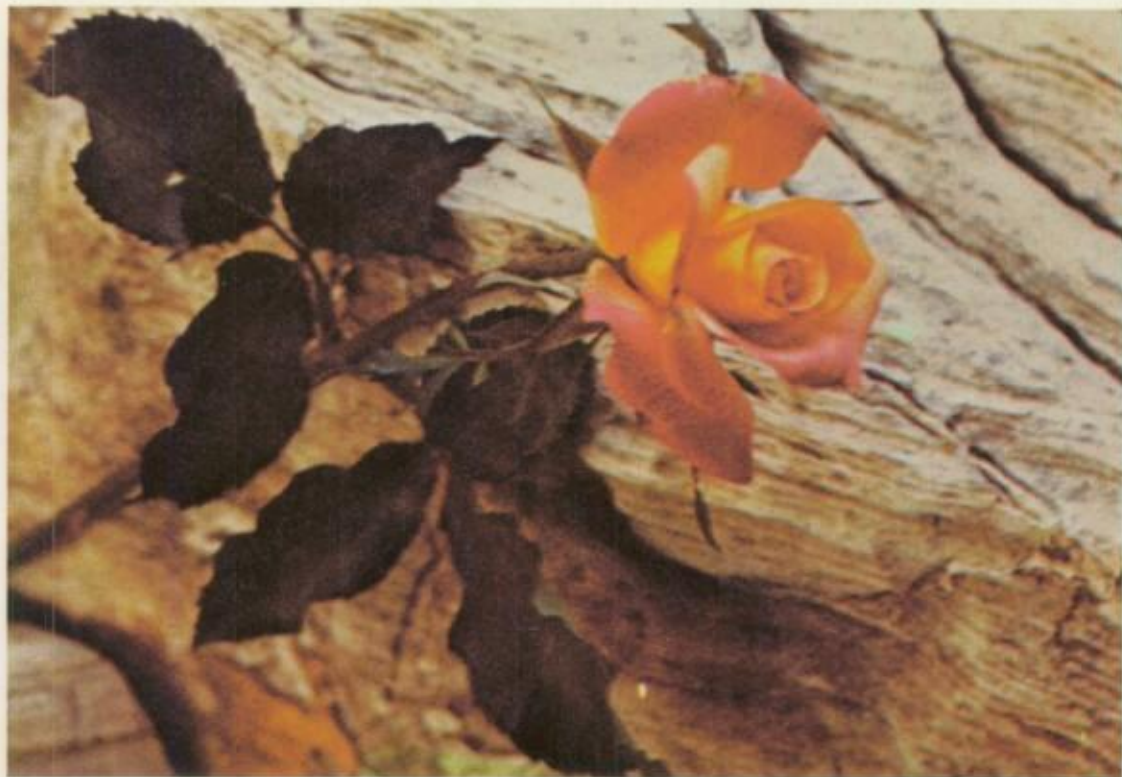

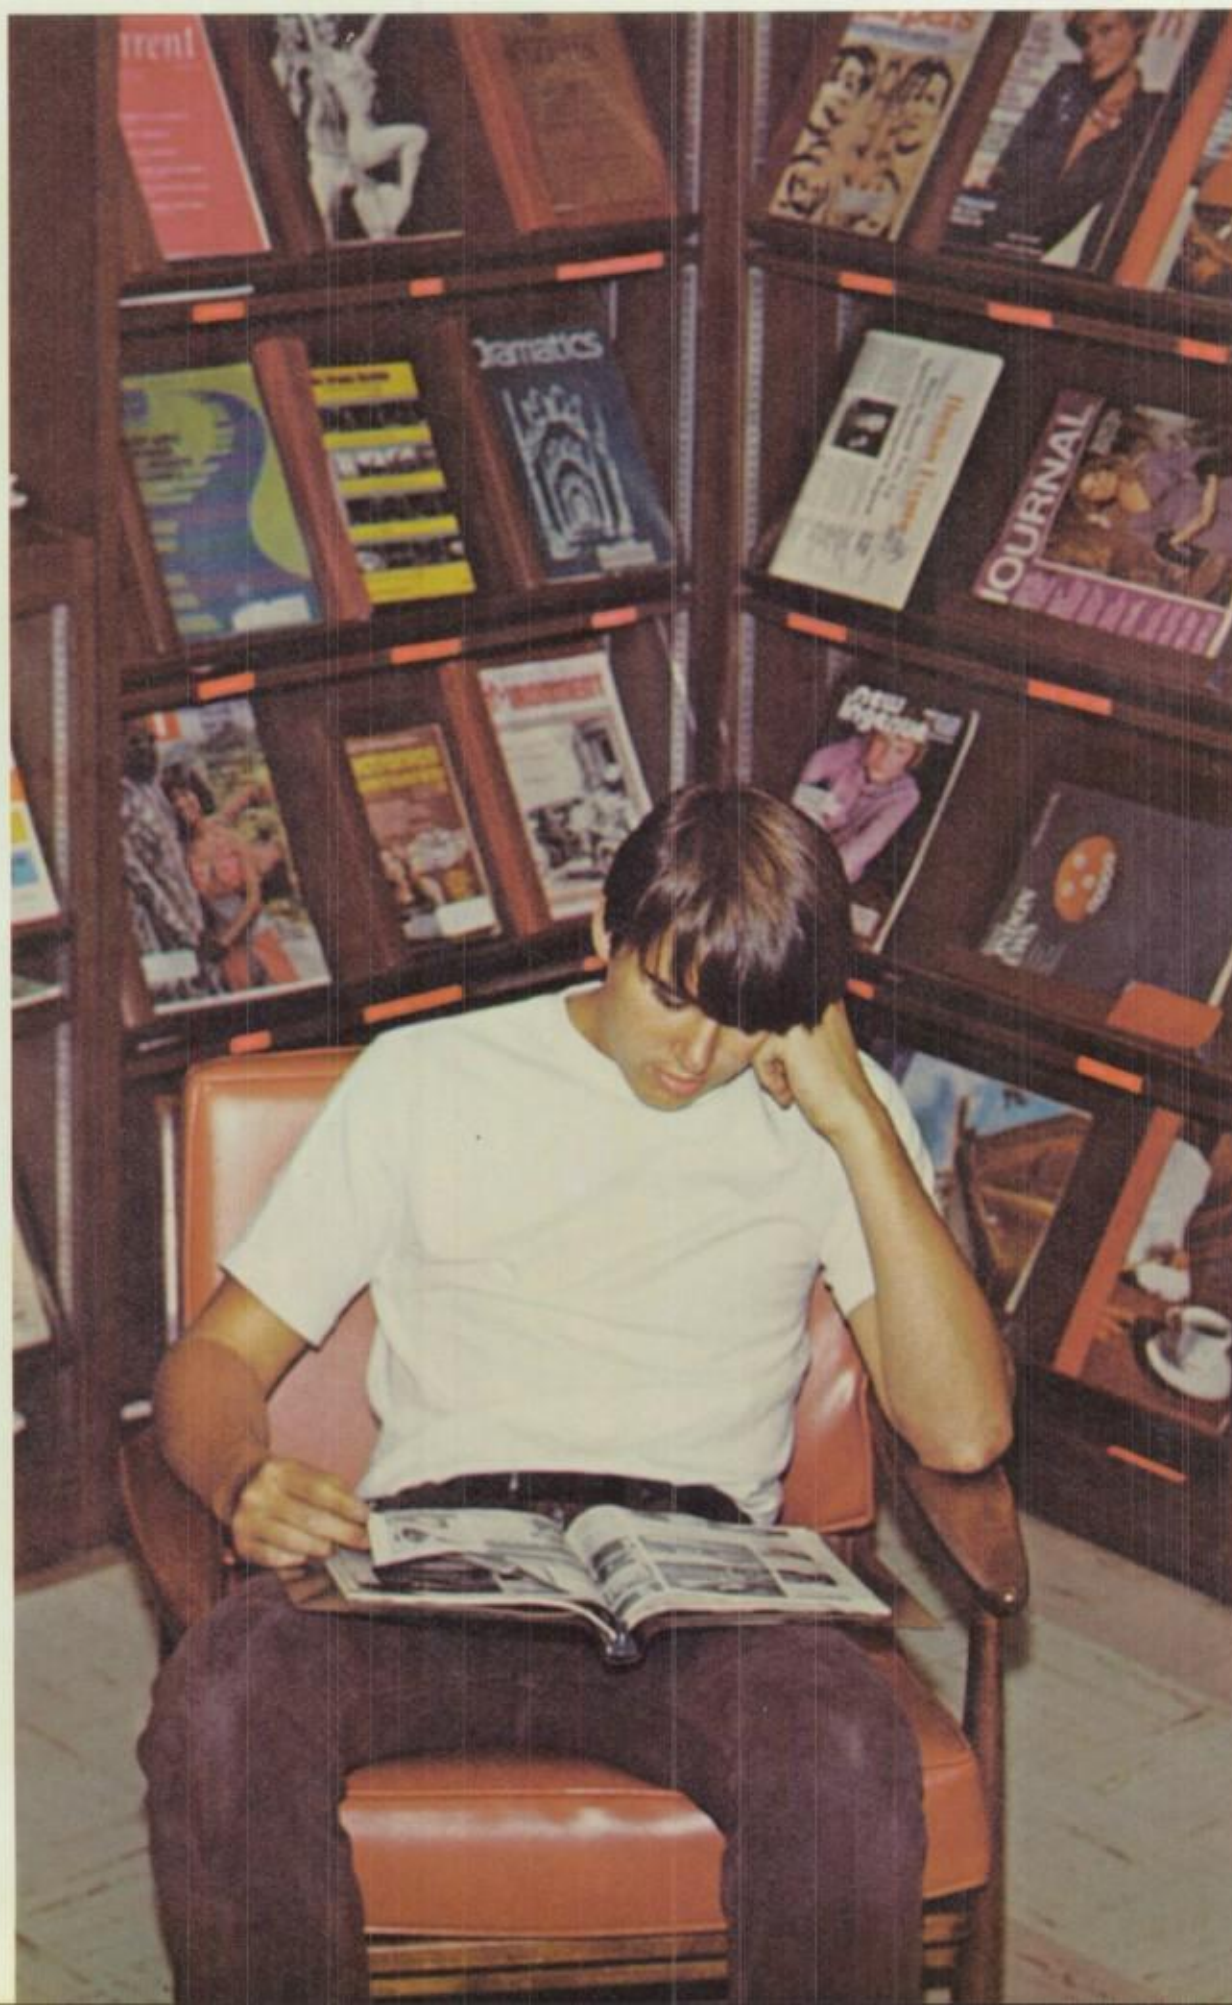

Everyone is an individual
With different feelings
And different ideas.

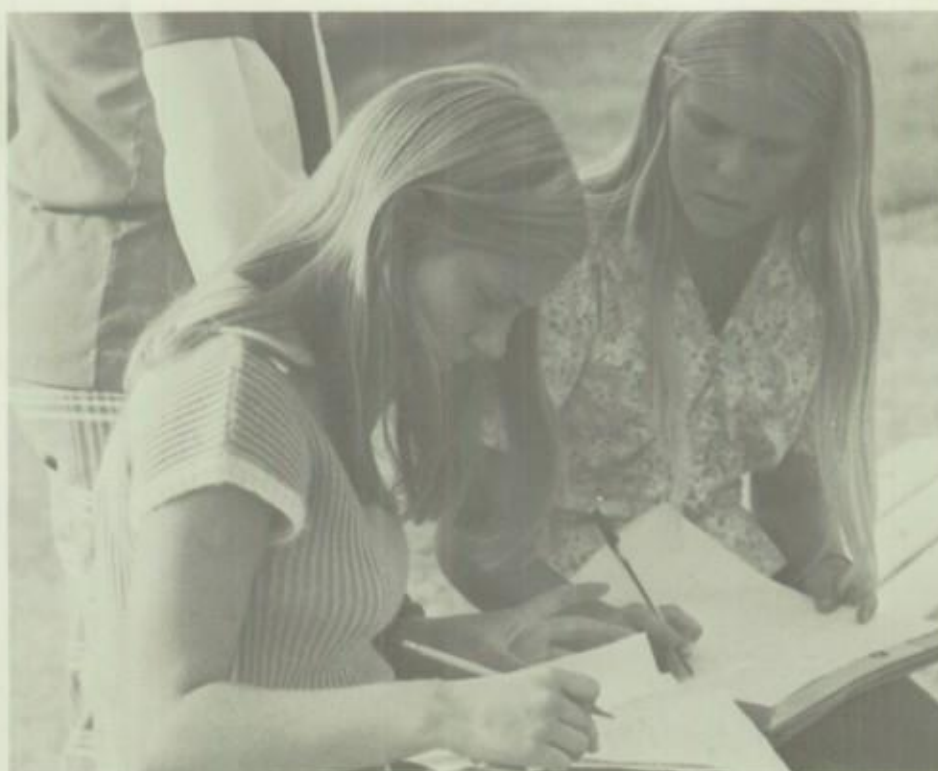

I am my own person
With an independent spirit
And unique goals.

Yet, I need you
As you need me
Although I am an individual
I cannot stand alone.

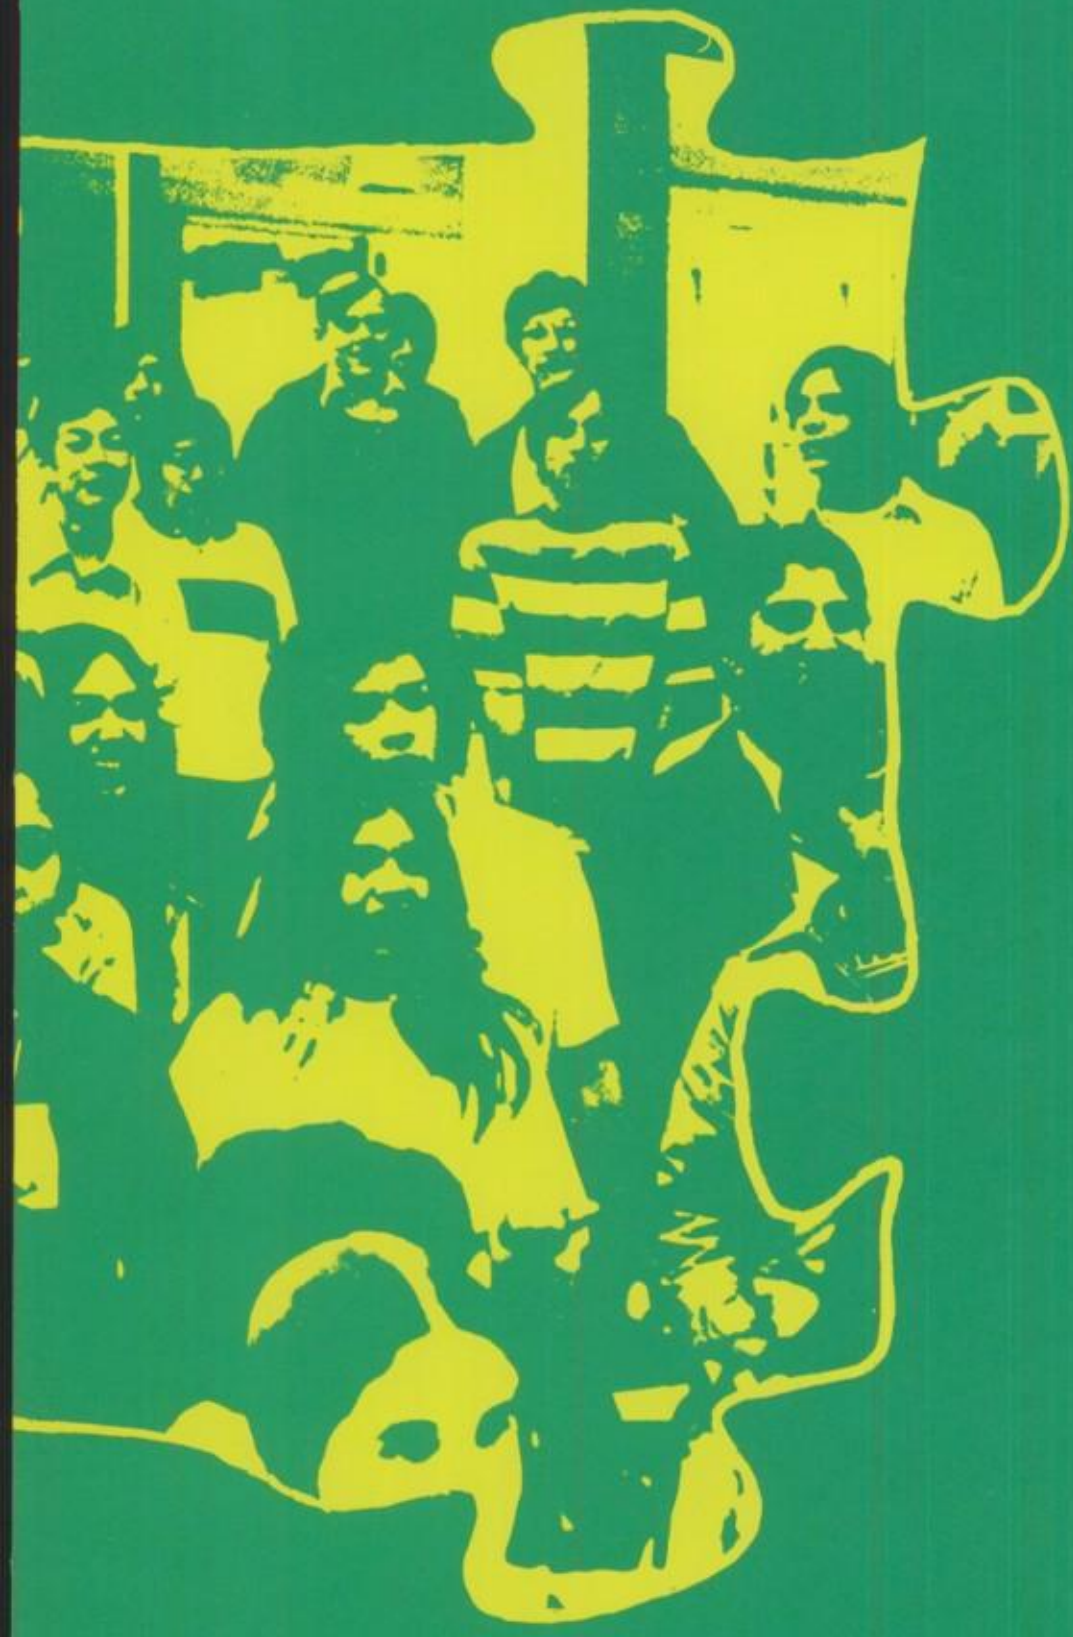

We depend on one another
To make the whole;
Each one of us is important and needed
Together we can achieve.

Commission I Initiates Programs, Improves Student Relations

Kicking off the '73-'74 school year with enthusiasm, the Fall Commission, led by Commissioner General Jeff Kaplan, introduced many new ideas. In an attempt to have better communications with the entire student body, Commission members visited individual classrooms and answered questions pertaining to student government. Showing their concern for cooperation between schools, the Commission sponsored the Tri-City Student Government Seminar which was held on October 24 at AHS. Contests and games held during lunch hours aroused spirit and created a sense of involvement among the students.

Legislature Vocalizes Student Opinion

Consisting of legislators representative of each grade level, the Legislature met once every two weeks to air and discuss complaints and suggestions of the student body. The year-old procedure of allowing the Speaker of the Legislature to hold a seat on Commission was in effect, and increased communications between the executive board and Legislature. The formation of a committee to investigate possible solutions for the severe shortage of student parking, and encouragement to use the student liasons to the Board of Education to their full potential were among the achievements of the Legislature.

Homecoming '73: Fantasyland Outshines Showers

Showers failed to dampen the spirits of returning alumni and an enthusiastic student body for Homecoming festivities held at Moor Field on November 16. "Fantasyland" set the theme for this year's Homecoming and various service clubs built floats to this theme. These floats were shown during the pre-game parade with the band and drill team. Campus club's Gingerbread House captured first place. The climax of the evening was the coronation of Homecoming Queen Abella Felarca by Principal Donald McGuigan. Abella and her court, Princesses Josefina Iglesias, Kim Kenny, Laurie Smith and Marisa Zarr reigned over the second half of the football game against Arcadia.

Christmas Activities Support Navajo Project; Create Seasonal Spirit

This year's Christmas activities included the annual Navajo project by which the Christmas Committee, with the aid of the student body, donated canned foods, toys and clothing to the needy Navajo Indians of the Oraibi Navajo Gospel Mission in Arizona. Due to the fuel shortage, the Christmas Committee was unable to deliver the gifts in person, but the support of the student body was gained and AHS was able to continue with this tradition.

The Christmas assembly featured Indian dancing and performances by A Cappella Choir and Orchestra. Gifts were given to faculty members, and the announcements of club and class council donations to the Navajo project were made.

AFS Stresses Intercultural Friendship

Alhambra's AFS students this year were Ueli Geilinger from Switzerland, and Marcos Queiros from Brazil. Both students were particularly enthused with AHS's extra-curricular activities, saying that in both of their homeland schools, the sports programs were not so varied. Ueli and Marcos both participated on Moor soccer teams this year. Ueli stayed with the Luis Lopez family during his visit, and Marcos lived with the Martin Gordon family while he attended AHS.

One of Alhambra's Americans Abroad, Christy Gordon, returned from Argentina with high thoughts about the people and their values. Christy stayed with a family in Cordova, Argentina.

Janna Tom, an AHS senior, traveled to Switzerland during the summer and lived in a small city near Zurich. Janna feels that she gained a better understanding of people and of their cultures and unique characteristics.

Spring Drama Blossoms in 'Flowers For Algernon'

"Flowers For Algernon", a compelling play combining tragedy and comedy, was staged as the All-School Play this year at Alhambra High School. The story is of Charlie, a mentally retarded man, and his mouse, Algernon. One of the highlights of the production was that the character of Charlie is played by three different people-as a child, as a teenager, and an adult. The play was presented in the AHS Auditorium May 2, 3 & 4. Rehearsals began as early as February, with practices everyday after school.

Art, Industrial Arts Encourage Originality Through Several Media

To develop a sense of professional or personal satisfaction in the arts in each individual student is the objective of the Art Department. It is hoped that each student will more critically analyze his environment, enabling him to better express himself through the media of the art world.

An original project was undertaken by the Industrial Arts Department this year, with the aid of Cal State University Los Angeles. Second, third, and fourth year architectural and mechanical drafting students designed tools to aid in the assembly line production of model trucks. The purpose of the project was to teach the students about large scale industry, as well as more advanced designing.

The girls' physical education department continued its program expansion this year, once again placing emphasis on the development of physical skills. Sophomores were offered modern dance, gymnastics, and a form of girls' football as regular physical education classes. Successful efforts were made to expand the GAA program, planning toward full CIF membership next fall.

A new and successful class set the tone of the boys' physical education department this year. Introduced for the first full year was a co-educational physical education class, including such sports as bowling and volleyball. In addition to the assortment of sports offered to boys, a special sports class held during sixth period served to strengthen interscholastic competition.

Special Education Provides New Opportunities For Individual Studies

The Special Education Department added a course in Maintenance for the first time this year. Students were encouraged to work with maintenance people, both from AHS and the school district, as part of their daily classwork. The Moor Room, initiated last year, again gave students a chance to learn restaurant management and operation. The aural education program provided the opportunity for individual expression in the form of a monthly newspaper for the deaf and hard-of-hearing which was nationally published. For the first time, deaf and hard-of-hearing students participated in at least two daily classes outside the Special Education Department, with aides in these classes to interpret.

Varsity Struggles Through Disappointing Season

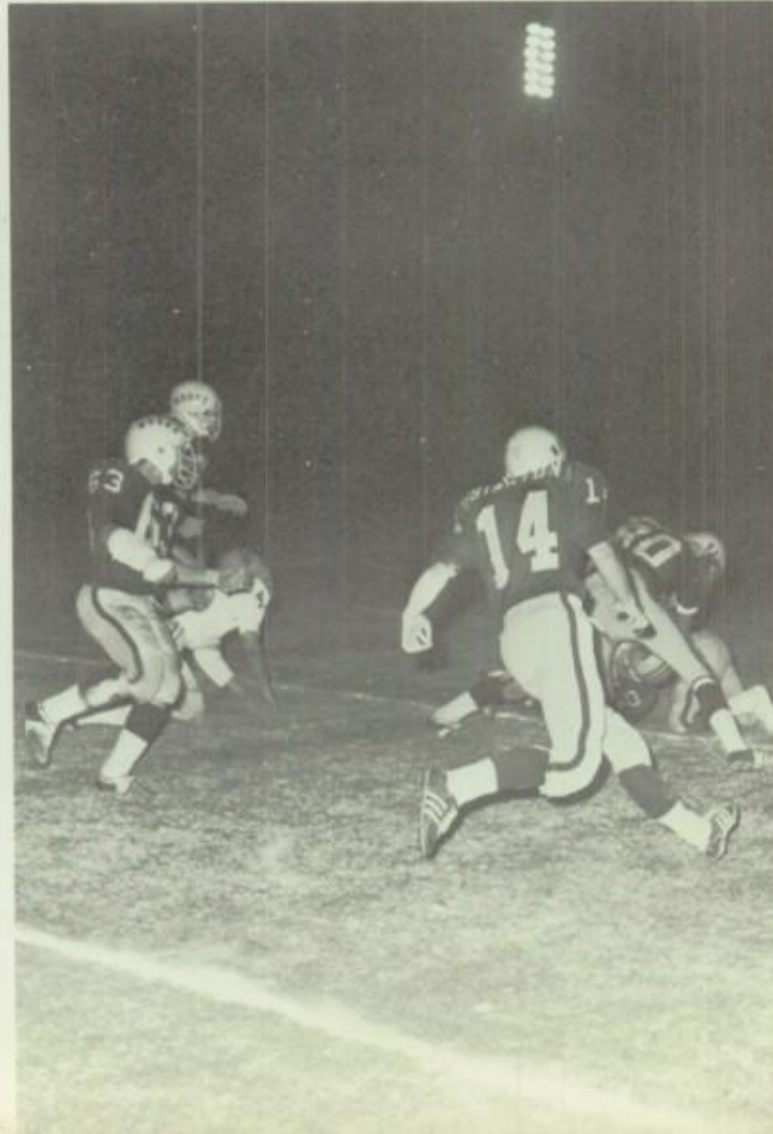

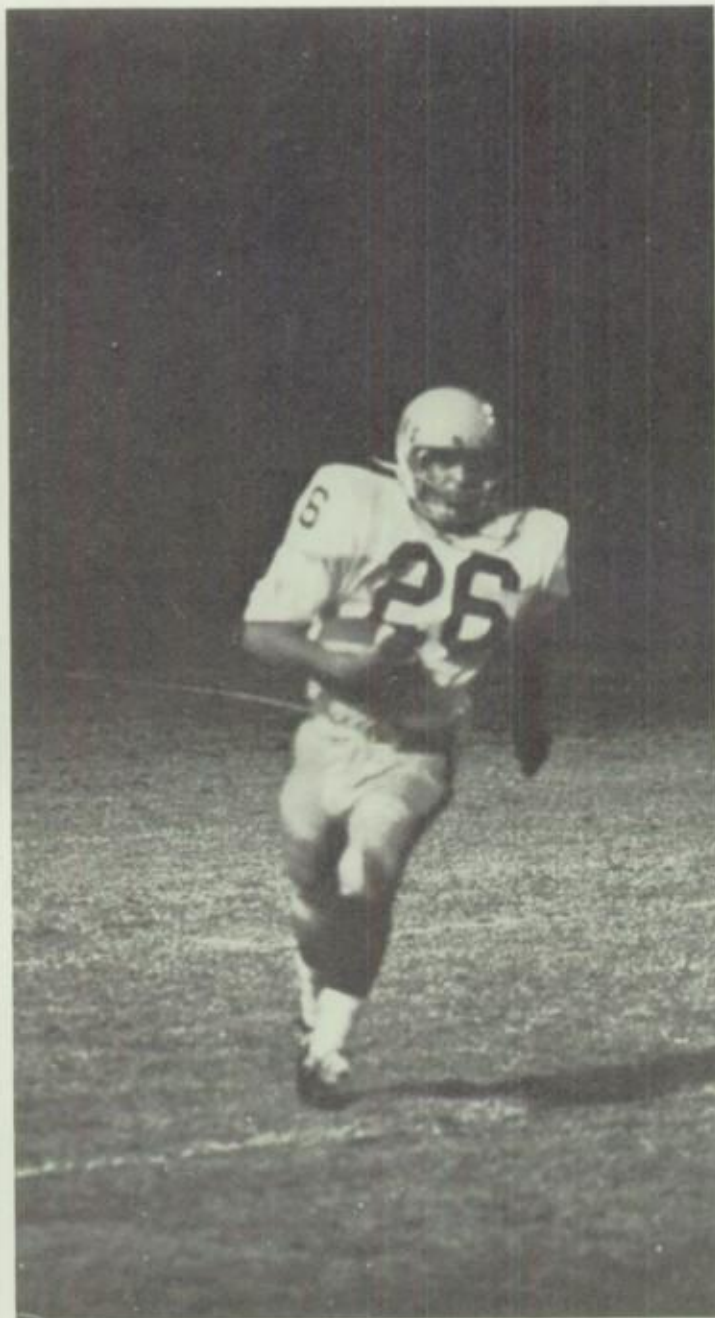

The 1973-74 Alhambra Varsity Football squad finished the season with a disappointing 1-4 record against their tough Pacific League opponents. However the Moors pre-league victories against Mark Keppel and San Gabriel enabled the Moors to capture the Tri-City Championship. Coach Lowell Johnson completed his first year as head varsity coach. Assisting staff members were Emmett Menasco, Phil Dunaway, Gary Neeley, and Joel Kirsh.

Led by first string quarterback Royce Bybee, the Moors displayed fine offensive talent, but had trouble putting it all together. Outstanding Seniors Merit Highest Honorary Award

Seventeen outstanding seniors were chosen as members of the senior honorary society, Los Laureados. The names of the students were announced at the annual assembly on March 11. At the assembly, each senior was honored with a pin presented to them by Principal Mr. McGuigan. Requirements for this honor include maintenance of a 3.0 grade average, good citizenship, leadership, and participation in student activities, plus nominations by two of the three committees—the Junior Council, a Senior committee, and a Faculty committee. LOS LAUREADOS Front: Victoria Chau, Janine Letizia, Rolanda Yee. By working together
And helping each other we learn,
For Learning is the experience
Gained through interaction
With one another.

A puzzle piece
Insignificant in its isolation,
Joined with others
Creates a bond.
